

CALL FOR PAPERS

Stanford Undergraduate Psychology Conference

Saturday, May 17th, 2003 at Stanford University

Keynote Speaker Philip G. Zimbardo

is Professor of Psychology at Stanford University. He has authored more than 300 professional publications and has received numerous awards for his writing, teaching, and research. Zimbardo is past-president of both the Western Psychological Association and the American Psychological Association, and is world-renowned for his research on social influence, time perspective, and shyness.

<http://psychology.stanford.edu/~conference>

For more info and to apply online, go to the conference website shown above.

Abstract Deadline: March 28th, 2003

Proceeds from the conference will be donated to a class of underprivileged high school students studying psychology, to be used toward purchasing new academic material.

